Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 08 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Northeast rather dull on Friday. Dry, brighter elsewhere.

This Evening and Tonight:
A cloudy and mild evening and night with patchy light drizzle at times, particularly across the far north. Low cloud across the north. Light variable winds. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
A cloudy day with some patchy drizzle or light rain in the north and east. Turning drier and brighter along the west coast with some afternoon sunshine here. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Showers breaking out by day. These often heavy, although the far north and Isles drier over the weekend. Shower more widespread on Monday. Quite warm in the sunnier spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.